It's my pleasure to convey my message to Alumni of our college when observing Pharma Vista 2017. I was told Alumni is also publishing news letter. Our college of pharmacy with Bachelor of Pharmacy course was established from the academic year 1996-97. It has now has completed 20 years of age. We have been able to add Diploma in Pharmacy, Masters also Ph.D courses in Pharmacy, during this period.

Now and then we review the progress made by our past students in their career and I am happy to note that almost all the past students are extremely doing well in their respective fields.

Coming together at Campus for any occasion after laps of more than 15 years is a treat for all of US.

I am sure you haven't forgotten your teachers, your colleagues and those who contributed to your bright future. Hope to meet when you visit the Campus.

Vaseem Shaikh, 1996 to 2000

Vice President - Boston Scientific intraventional Cardiology.

“Lucky are those who find real life mentors.”

Allana College of Pharmacy, my Alma Mater has always been an abundant source of precious gem of mentors, where I was given space to develop my own unique skills. The long hours and sleepless nights do not just pay off on exam day, they shape you for life. So I won't be surprised to find myself smarter, better and fitter aristocrats today ... All due to the real life mentors like Dr. Khadbadhi Sir (our beloved Principal), Bhise Madam & Honrao Madam. ACP has taught me the Joy and Power of Camaraderie and I feel extremely fortunate to have remained close to them and have been a witness to those special moments. From the time spent in the college library or on the Cricket field to this day, I apply the analytical, solution finding, most positive thinking skills for overcoming any mountainous task. Each day when someone looks at me for inspiration, I turn back and thank ACP.

As far as my carrier journey after ACP, I started my career through Eli Lily, Currently flying high for a decade with Boston Scientific Interventional Cardiology. Serving... Saving... And Touching more lives. And with my Alma Maters best wishes will be soaring much higher. I would like to end my few lines with a quote coming in my mind.

“Success isn't just about what you accomplish in your life; it's about what you inspire others to do.”

Stay Connected..... Be Informed..... Remain Involved.

Dr. Sharvil Patil, 2002 to 2006

Asst. Prof. - Poona College of Pharmacy, Pune

I am currently working as Assistant Professor, Department of Pharmaceutics, Poona College of Pharmacy, Pune. Life is a onetime journey and I am very much fortunate and proud to devote my journey of success to Allana College of Pharmacy which moulded me during my graduation stage.

The college gave us wonderful student experience through its excellent staff and student centric administration. The institute not only provided us knowledge but also groomed our personality. ACP has a full credit in developing my personality and confidence due to which I can face the audience of any number and delivering talks at various institutes.

Principal, Dr. Kiran Bhise madam, was always very encouraging and ensured that students get enough extra-curricular activities to develop all round personalities. The cultural and sports activities conducted during my tenure at ACP have played a vital role in my career because I learnt managerial skills through organization and participation in such events during my third and final year of graduation. ACP also provided us the base for preparation of competitive examinations which helped me to clear the national level GATE examination twice during my graduation. I must not forget the cooperation extended by all the nonteaching staff of ACP during my graduation. I can't thank enough to all my teachers and the institution for making me who I am today... THANK U ACP. We owe you our achievements.....Proud to be ACPian.

Divyakumar Bora, 2006 to 2008
Research Scientist - Lupin, Aurangabad
 It gives me great pleasure to be in contact with my alma mater after 09 years. For 2 years I stood in your place on the ground as a pupil. So this is my home and I am delighted to be back in your midst to address you in this auspicious newsletter.

As mentioned earlier, I came to Allana college of Pharmacy as a timid, little child in 2006. I was nurtured here by excellent teachers during my early youth and graduated in 2008 as the best student. In year 2005, I ranked 3rd in college in B. Pharm exam. I ranked 1st in college in M. Pharm university exam held in 2008. I started my career with Ajanta Pharma, Mumbai in 2008 as a Trainee scientist. At present I am working with Lupin Ltd. as a Research scientist. I have worked with different organizations namely Alembic, Unichem, Sandoz in my career. I have published 4 research papers in renowned international journals and represented college in various conferences and seminars. I also have one US patent in my name.

All these I accomplished not by myself but by the Grace of Almighty God, the support of my loving parents and siblings and also the sacrifice of my teachers here at Allana College who laid the foundation for those to build on. I want everyone here to understand that they are also blessed and privileged to have all of these. The glory of God is equally given to everyone, we all have similar brains and the fact that you are here means that your parents love you and are supporting you fervently, moreover, those wonderful and caring teachers are still here, therefore I say to you: YOU CAN DO BETTER THAN MYSELF if you want to and you shall, by the Will of God. YES YOU CAN. You can not only to surpass the notable people graduated from this institute earlier but you can be greater in such a way that the whole world will reckon your names.

In my esteemed Allana College, we end our talks by saying Floreat Collegium which is from Latin meaning Let the College continue to flourish, therefore I end by saying to you Floreat Allana college of Pharmacy, let Allana college of Pharmacy continue to flourish.
 Thank you very much.
